

Phylum: Cnidarians

Phylum: Cnidarian

- Examples: hydras, jellies, sea anemones and corals
- All have radial symmetry
- They are carnivores and use their tentacles to capture small animals and protists and push the prey into their mouths
- Have stinger cells on the surface of the tentacles that function in defense and prey capture
- Have a digestive tract.